Important Information for Riders & Crew

One of our FEI vets, Annamaria Nagy, from the Animal Health Trust, will be giving a talk on the Friday evening, to summarise and discuss the findings of the British Endurance Horse Health Survey that was carried out in the beginning of 2016. The talk will focus on veterinary problems, but results related to riders, horses, husbandry, training and nutrition will also be mentioned. All welcome; whether or not you participated in the survey, hopefully everyone will hear some useful information. The talk will take place after the briefing and will last for approximately 30 minutes.

Please check the website regularly, as any additional information regarding the ride will be displayed there. www.endurancecgb.co.uk/main/Keysoe

Crewing Information

Access to the venue for all FEI and CER road crew is via the track opposite the show stables and not the main car park entrance. Follow this track and take the gateway into the hold field. Please note this road will get busy and you may meet horses making their way to or from the show stables. There is a 10mph speed limit on this track.

NO crewing anywhere on the B660 (the Keysoe – Bedford road)

NO crewing on Church Road, Keysoe (the approach road to the Venue)

NO crewing in Keysoe village

NO crewing at any Check Points (with the exception on CP 1)

Crewing points (with off-road parking):

- Crew A – Wood End Farm – a field opposite the bridleway entrance – do not crew on road
- Crew B – field off the B660, next to Apple Tree Cottage, Bolnhurst
- Crew C – Field adjacent to route between Mount Pleasant Farm & CP 2
- Crew D – Bourne End – Farm yard
- Crew E – Top End, Lowsdon Lane, Riseley - go past the houses to the hard standing on left
- Crew F – Concrete track (also horse route)

Do not ride or park on mown verges and route markers!

Please be considerate to other road users and obey the Highway Code.

Extra Information

All horses staying overnight must have emergency contact details displayed at all times on their stable or corral, even if riders/owners are staying on site.

David Saunders will be taking photos, which will be available on the day.

There are several water taps at the venue, as shown on the venue layout.

Please be courteous to other road users or any possible landowners you may see on your ride.

Please also be aware of other bridleway users.
